Ogden Staff Equity Training

Many Ogden Elementary staff will be involved in an equity training on Wednesday, March 24th. As a result, teachers are not expected to live Zoom with students on March 24th. There are different training sessions during the day for staff. As a result, if time allows, a few teachers may choose to Zoom with their class before or after their equity training. Alternate independent activities will be provided for students on the 24th. We look forward as a staff in learning how we can advance our equity work at Ogden.
